Home learning update

Perspective

"I am writing to you from Italy, which means I am writing from your future. We are now where you will be in a few days. The epidemic's charts show us all entwined in a parallel dance. We are but a few steps ahead of you in the path of time, just like Wuhan was a few weeks ahead of us. We watch you as you behave just as we did. You hold the same arguments we did until a short time ago, between those who still say "it's only a flu, why all the fuss?" and those who have already understood.....

At some point, you will realise it's tough. You will be afraid. You will share your fear with your dear ones, or you will keep it to yourselves so as not to burden them with it too"

Home learning updates

Two weeks in, and stories emerging that it may be months until we are able to return to anything approaching normality. Time for us to try and support each other, keep in touch, keep up with work if possible and treasure our nearest and dearest. Keep baking, working, gaming, drawing, painting, playing, reading, creating, caring, gardening, sleeping, making, colouring, styling, growing, singing, dancing, laughing, cooking, pickling and anything else you can add to this list.

Mr Parke.

Weekly Challenge

Design the best sandwich. One of my favourites is corned beef and pickle on rye bread!

Keep your distance.

5 in a row and Make 100 Maths challenge.

All the weekly challenges can be found at challengeAHCC@allhallows.org.uk

Prayer

I slow myself down for a moment and try to realise that God is present.

To me. Here and now. He is in present in what I do, in the people that I meet, and the situations I find myself in daily.

UCAS: calculated grades

To make sure it's a fair reflection of your performance, your grade will be based on information from your teachers' judgement, using:

- previous attainment, including GCSEs and mocks

Mr Aspinall

Mr Aspinall would like to pass on a simple message to his VI Form students – It's cake Friday! Apparently a tradition that Mr Aspinall is very keen for you to carry on.

Mr Faulkner

"I am very impressed by the head wear worn by the sixth formers when I zoomed them. Lots of gamer head sets! I am tempted to get myself one to look as cool next time I zoom. Joe had a great array of ducks on his desk.

It was also nice to see some ex students eg Leilia, and Jess "

ADT Faculty

As you can see from the image opposite, our ADT faculty have embraced Zoom and well done to the students involved for embracing the tech. The sewing opposite was produced by one of our clearly talented Year 13 students with the initials L.G.
